FAN FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE

1 :: The Terrapin gymnastics team enjoys spending time with fans and especially signing autographs for aspiring gymnasts at post-meet get-togethers.

TRAVELING IN STYLE

2 :: The Terp gymnastics team travels to and from meets within driving distance in style in the luxury of the University of Maryland buses.

EAGL HONORS

3 :: The Maryland gymnastics program has earned its share of conference awards since helping form the EAGL in 1995. Head coach Bob Nelligan was named the league's coach of the year in 1999 and four Terps have been named the EAGL's Outstanding Rookie Gymnast. Perhaps even more impressive is that Maryland gymnasts have been named the EAGL's Scholar Athlete of the Year four times.

TERRAPIN GYMNASTICS: IT'S NOT A PROGRAM, IT'S A FAMILY

4 :: Unity is the key to the success of a team. Maryland gymnastics is not just your average collegiate program. It's a family, from the coaching staff to the student-athletes to alumnae. Once a Terp ... Always a Terp!

SEASON OUTLOOK

TERPS LOOK TO YOUNG TALENT FOR UPCOMING SEASON

The 2008 season is head coach Bob Nelligan's 30th at the helm of the gymnastics program.

"We have the depth and leadership to go far this season" says Coach Nelligan. "Athletic Department support and expectations are at an all time high and we couldn't foresee a better situation then what we currently have. What an opportunity to make our mark. The time is now; the athletes know it and the coaches feel the excitement."

The 2008 squad is comprised of two seniors, one junior, six sophomores, and five freshmen. Tri-captains Gretchen Kittelberger, Lindsey Bonomo and Kelsey Nelligan are poised to lead this young team back to a Regional birth. "As captains and the only upper classmen on a relatively young team, we are really focusing on setting a standard of excellence this year for the team to live up to. With the talent we have, we expect to have a very successful season culminating in a strong showing at Regionals that puts us in contention for the National Championships."

Kittelberger, a senior, received the EAGL Scholar-Athlete of the Year award last season and was named to the EAGL All-Academic team. She was named most improved by her coaches as she emerged to compete in the all-around once again. Bonomo, also a senior, earned EAGL All-Academic honors while competing on the vault in 11 meets. She also saw action on the floor exercise and can always be counted on to compete in any event when needed.

Nelligan did not see action last year but trained vault and received "Team Mom" award at team banquet for taking good care of the six freshmen. The junior was also named to the EAGL All-Academic team.

All six freshmen from last year's team return this season as sophomores. Reigning EAGL Rookie of the Year, Brandi George had a stellar freshman season. She qualified individually to the 2007 NCAA Southeast Regional Championships in the all-around, was named to first team All-EAGL in the balance beam, floor exercise and all-around events and also earned second team All-EAGL honors on the vault. In addition, George was selected as the EAGL Rookie of the Week twice.

Talia Tossone qualified to the NCAA Southeast Regional Championship on the balance beam last season as well as receiving second team All-EAGL honors on the balance beam. She saw action in nine meets on floor and will be looked up this season once again. Allison Dama earned second team All-EAGL on the uneven bars and competed in the anchor position at all meets. She scored a 9.725 or better eight times. Dama was also named to the EAGL All-Academic team. She is expected to see action on other events this season.

Candice King scored the Terps' only 9.900 of the season on Feb. 8 against George Washington competing on the vault. She was named EAGL Specialist of the Week once and competed on vault and uneven bars in all meets. Michele Brenner competed on the uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercise in all 12 meets. Her highest score on the season was a 9.825 on the beam. Brenner was named to the 2007 EAGL All-Academic team. Margaux Meeks competed on the vault and uneven bars in the first seven meets before suffering an injury. She was named the EAGL All-Academic team.

Maryland's freshman class consists of Abigail Adams (Spring, Texas), Kaitlin Joseph (Grand Rapids, Mich.), Kelsey McDermid (Woodbine, Md.), Alyssa Valbert (Naperville, Ill.), red-shirt freshman transfer Lisa Reifschneider (Monrovia, Md.). Adams is a two-year U.S. International Elite competitor and trained at Cypress Gymnastics Academy in Houston, Texas. Joseph is a four-time Junior Olympic National qualifier and trained at US Airborne in Grand Rapids, Mich. McDermid is a member of Hill's Gymnastics Club in Gaithersburg, Md and has been coached by Olympic coaches Kelli Hill, Jen Bundy, Kirk Morris and Cynthia Smaha. Valbert is a two-time Junior Olympic National qualifier and trained at Arena Gymnastics in Joliet, Ill. under coach Dan Miller. Reifschneider, a transfer, was a top recruit for Maryland in 2006, but elected to go to Denver. She was a member of Frederick Gymnastics in Frederick, Md.

Nelligan's assistants balance out the team. "Vicki and Brett are both great technicians and are important to the succees of this program."

Assistant coach Vicki Chliszczyk returns for her third season after directing the Terps on beam last season. In addition to primarily coaching beam, Vicki assists on all events as well as routine construction. Her spotting abilities also have been a tremendous asset to the staff.

Brett Nelligan returns for his fifth season as an assistant coach and second as recruiting coordinator. Nelligan's main duties include coaching vault and tumbling and he's also relied on for spotting. As recruiting coordinator, Brett was responsible for hitting the road this summer in search of securing another top-notch freshman class for the Terps' 2008-09 season.

"Recruiting has become the biggest single factor in evaluating the growth and ultimately the success of a program," describes head coach Bob Nelligan. "For the second year in a row, my staff and I have been able to secure one of the best recruiting classes in the country."

Maryland will begin the 2008 season with two meets at home. The Terps will host Ohio State on January 11 and West Virginia on January 18.

After their home opener, the team hits the road for six of the next seven meets. On January 27, Maryland travels to Texas Women's University for a quad meet joined by Denver and Air Force.

Maryland next travels to Towson to compete in the thirteenth annual Governor's Cup on February 1. This competition between schools from Maryland and North Carolina features Maryland, Towson, North Carolina and NC State. The state of North Carolina has a 7-5 lead in the series.

The Terps then travel to Michigan State on February 9 before returning home on February 15.

Maryland hosts local rival George Washington when it returns home. This is the "Pink Meet" and is dedicated to raising donations and understanding for breast cancer research. Everyone is encouraged to wear pink.

The Terps go back on the road to New Hampshire on February 24. The ladies travel to the University of North Carolina for a quad meet on March 1 with William and Mary and the University of New Hampshire. On March 9, Maryland travels to George Washington for a quad meet with West Virginia and Kent State.

Maryland's final home meet will be a quad meet with Michigan, Pitt and Temple. March 15 will be alumni and senior recognition night as well. The regular season ends at Penn State in a quad meet with Nebraska and Rutgers on March 29.

Following the completion of the regular season Maryland will travel to West Virginia for the EAGL Championships. Following this the Terps look to compete at one of the six NCAA Regional Championship sites on April 12 and then advance to the NCAA Championships at the University of Georgia on April 24-26.

HEAD COACH BOB NELLIGAN

30TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • MASSACHUSETTS '72
1999 NCAA SOUTHEAST REGION COACH OF THE YEAR

Bob Nelligan enters his 30th season at the helm of the Maryland gymnastics program. In that time, Nelligan has been the driving force behind the Terps' success. Affectionately called "Duke", his love for the sport and for his athletes is unique in today's world of gymnastics and has earned him the respect of the gymnastics world and his pupils and peers.

"Duke is one of the most passionate and caring coaches I know. He absolutely loves to be in the gym teaching and coaching," said assistant coach Vicki Chliszczyk. "His energy is evident in each and every practice and the entire team knows that Duke will be there to support them in any situation. Duke knows how to make each practice exciting and fun!"

With a lifetime coaching record of 467-409-4, Nelligan has witnessed and adapted to the numerous changes that collegiate gymnastics has undergone. As gymnasts have gotten stronger, so has Nelligan's recruiting of the top gymnasts in the country. During Nelligan's career with the Terps, they have qualified for the NCAA Southeast Region Championships 14 times, including six consecutive times from 1983 to '89 and four consecutive times from 1998-2001. In recent years, the Terps have moved closer to qualifying for the NCAA Championship meet.

Prior to the Terps' entrance into the Southeast Region in the 1983-84 season, the Terps competed in the East Region and qualified for the championships four of the seven seasons that they were members. Nelligan has the respect of all of his colleagues at Maryland and nationwide, and is recognized as one of the top gymnastics coaches in the country. In 1999, Nelligan was acknowledged for his contributions to collegiate gymnastics when he was honored as both the East Atlantic Gymnastics League Coach of the Year and Southeast Region Coach of the Year, the first awards he had received in a prestigious career.

Maryland's level of success is only achieved through a strict regiment of training and conditioning, which Nelligan implements on a year-round basis. Nelligan is constantly striving to be the best and expects his gymnasts to do the same, both in athletics and academics. Last season, Maryland had five All-EAGL first team selections and three All-EAGL second team selections. Also, fifteen Terrapin gymnasts earned All-EAGL academic honors, the highest total of student-athletes named to the 2007 EAGL All-Academic team. Nelligan is responsible for ensuring that this level of success is constantly maintained. He is the Maryland Terrapin team leader and the dedication and enthusiasm of the Terrapin gymnasts is a direct reflection of Nelligan's attitude and work ethic.

"Duke is one of the most technical coaches in all of collegiate gymnastics. His passion for the sport and support for his athletes is unrivaled. My father has done so much for me throughout my gymnastics career, it is a complete honor to be able to assist him with his," said assistant coach and son Brett Nelligan.

Even though his work with the gymnastics team consumes most of his time throughout the year, Nelligan still finds time to focus his energies on several other projects. He assists the Director of the Maryland Gymkana Troupe, the only touring exhibition gymnastics troupe in the country. They perform nationwide and have become a main attraction on the Maryland campus. Nelligan is also the co-founder of the Maryland Gymkana Camp and on numerous occasions has been a guest lecturer in the College of Health and Human Performance Department. He is also a director and master staff member at the Woodward Gymnastics Camp in Woodward, Pa. and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches, the U.S. Elite Coaches Association and the chairman of the first NACGC ethics committee. Nelligan has also taught numerous classes regarding athletics and is striving to take athletics to another level through his pioneering of a wellness program for all of the varsity athletes at Maryland. This program is currently in the process of being implemented to select track and field athletes and will ensure that athletes achieve their highest potential through the best means possible.

Originally from Braintree, Mass., Nelligan has more than 30 years of gymnastics experience. Prior to accepting the position of head coach at Maryland for the 1978-1979 season, Nelligan worked in various capacities at the Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. From 1973 to 1978 he was a physical education instructor at the Masters School and also coached several teams, including gymnastics, lacrosse and softball. In addition to these responsibilities, Nelligan was named the Chairman of the Physical Education Department in 1975 for the Masters School. From 1972 to 1973 Nelligan coached at the Marvateens Gymnastics School in Rockville, Md., and before that was an instructor and coach at the Weymouth South School in Weymouth, Mass. Nelligan received his B.S. in physical education from the University of Massachusetts in 1971.

Nelligan and his wife, Chris, have two children; Brett and Kelsey. Brett is an assistant coach and the recruiting coordinator of the Maryland gymnastics team and Kelsey is a member of the team.

VICKI CHLISZCZYK

ASSISTANT COACH • THIRD YEAR AT MARYLAND
YORK UNIVERSITY '01

Vicki Chliszczyk returns for her third season as assistant coach of the Maryland gymnastics team. Chliszczyk primarily coaches balance beam, but also assists on all events, routine construction and spotting. In her first two seasons, she is credited with raising both the beam line-up's confidence and level of difficulty. In 2007, the team's highest event score of the season came on the beam on February 23 in a quad meet with a 48.925 score. Some of her other duties include selecting team apparel and coordinating travel arrangements.

Head coach Nelligan describes Chliszczyk's biggest contribution to the team last season as unseen; "She quickly gained the team's respect, because of her dedication, fairness and support. The team knows she is pulling for them."

Chliszczyk studied with the Ontario Gymnastics Federation and completed an intensive national coaching certificate program. The in-depth training system teaches coaches how to develop athlete's skills and adequately spot them. Coach Nelligan believes Chliszczyk has done an excellent job transitioning into Maryland gymnastics, "She has adapted well with our system and will continue to grow with it while adding her own ideas. She is a teacher and knows how to mold gymnasts."

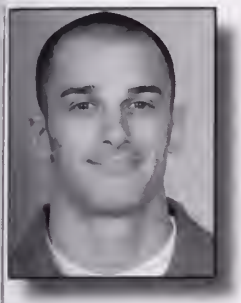
Chliszczyk spends her summer working at the prestigious Woodward Gymnastics Camp in Pennsylvania. She has been one of the gymnastics program directors for the last four years and affiliated with the program since 1996. Some of her duties include scheduling, coaching and conducting clinics to visiting coaches. At Woodward, she manages a gymnastics coaching staff of 30 coaches and over 3000 gymnasts, including many on the elite level.

A 12-year member of the Milton Springers gymnastics club in Milton, Ontario, Chliszczyk, competed in the Provinical Championships for 10 consecutive years (1989-2000). The Milton Springers Club dedicated an award in her name, "The Vicki Chliszczyk Award for Dedication", given at the end of the year to the most dedicated athlete.

A native of Ontario, Canada, Chliszczyk earned a bachelor's degree in Philosophy at York University in 2001. Her parents and brother (Chris) reside in Ontario, Canada.

BRETT NELLIGAN

ASSISTANT COACH / RECRUITING COORDINATOR
FIFTH YEAR AT MARYLAND • MASSACHUSETTS '03



Brett Nelligan enters his fifth season as assistant coach of the Maryland gymnastics team after joining the coaching staff in July 2003. Nelligan is responsible for coaching vault and tumbling. In 2007, the vault was the highest average scoring event for the team. He is also relied on for his spotting abilities that are crucial to the team's success.

Head coach Bob Nelligan said, "During his four-year tenure, vault and floor have been our most stable events and those events are where we posted some of our highest totals." Nelligan also describes Brett as a technician, "He understands the mechanisms of where the sport is going. With Brett you are seeing the emergence of a national coach."

In addition to coaching, Nelligan is credited with securing the Terps' most talented recruiting classes ever with the 2007 freshmen class, which won six Junior Olympic national championship titles combined. His recruiting success helped him earn the title of recruiting coordinator in May 2006. Nelligan's father, head coach Bob Nelligan, believes what makes Brett a good recruiter is his believability, "He is selling something that he believes in, his father and the Maryland gymnastics system. He also goes out recruiting with a plan to bring in the highest ranked athletes."

A 2003 graduate of the University of Massachusetts with a degree in sport management, Nelligan competed three years of gymnastics for the Minutemen, serving as co-captain one year. An accomplished gymnast himself, Brett regularly made lineup on vault, floor exercise, high bar and pommel horse. On vault, he placed in the top ten at the NCAA Championships and third at the ECAC Championships. He was also an Academic All-American and aided his team in winning two ECAC Championships. A versatile athlete, Brett turned to diving after the UMass gymnastics program was cancelled, and witnessed the team achieve its third straight Atlantic-10 title.

2007 SEASON RECAP

TERP UNDERCLASSMEN SHOW BRIGHT PROMISE FOR THE FUTURE

The 2007 Maryland gymnastics team began the season with big goals of winning the EAGL Championship at home in the Comcast Center and returning to the NCAA Southeast Regionals. The team relied heavily on its freshmen class; this group of six made up over fifty percent of the team's line-up at every competition. As in past seasons, the team was unable to ever put up its ideal line-up in competitions due to injuries and fell short of its goals.

The Terps kicked off the season with a win at home against Towson and University of Pennsylvania. Maryland gymnasts took first place on three of the four individual events; Angela Ferg tied for first on vault with Towson's Christina Ghani, Brandi George won balance beam and Morgan Fishbein won the floor exercise. Allison Dama tallied the team's highest score on the uneven bar with a 9.825 for second place.

Following the home-opener, the team hit the road for three consecutive quad meets. The Terps first went to Pittsburgh and were defeated by Pittsburgh, Michigan State and West Virginia. The team fell short at Kentucky against West Virginia and North Carolina on January 26. The team competed in the 12th annual Governor's Cup hosted at NC State and finished third with a score of 191.925.

The Terps returned home on February 8 to beat fellow EAGL member George Washington, 194.500-191.500. Two Maryland gymnasts received weekly honors based on their performances at this meet. Brandi George earned EAGL Rookie of the Week and Candice King received EAGL Specialist of the Week. King's 9.900 score on the vault was the highest score earned by a Terp all season.

The team went back on road and traveled to New Hampshire where they earned a new season-high total, but were edged by the Wildcats, 195.250-194.550. George notched her season best in the all-around with a 39.225 and earned the EAGL Rookie of the Week honor for the second week in a row. She tied for first on the balance beam with Jaime deMello by scoring a 9.875.

The Terrapins earned their season-high score of 194.700 at their "Terps for a Cure" quad meet against New Hampshire, Temple and James Madison as well as event highs on the balance beam (48.925) and floor (48.750). The meet was dedicated to raising donations and understanding for breast cancer research; the team was able to raise over a $1,000 towards the cause.

The team stayed home for two meet meets against Penn State and North Carolina. They fell to the Nittany Lions, 195.275-191.600. The Tar Heels visited the Terps for their last home meet on Senior/Alumni Night, where the Terps topped the Heels for the first time out of their three meetings of the season, 194.025-193.750. The three Terrrapin seniors, Rachel Colon, Angela Ferg and Marisa St. Louis, were recognized for their achievements at Maryland. Ferg scored a 9.825 on vault for a three-way first place tie. George won the all-around with a 39.025 as well as the floor with a 9.775 score and tied with teammate Michele Brenner for second on the beam.

BRANDI GEORGE

The team concluded the regular season with two road trips. The first was a tri-meet with local rivals George Washington and host Towson. The Tigers took first (194.500) followed by the Colonials (193.750) and the Terps finished third (193.150). Gretchen Kittelberger competed all-around for the first time of the season and placed third with a 38.600 score.

Maryland saved their toughest competition for last, No. 11 Michigan. The Wolverines beat the Terps, 196.075-190.975. Brandi George competed all-around for the eleventh consecutive time of the season and won her sixth title.

The Terps tried to put the two road losses aside and focus on hosting the 12th annual EAGL Championships at home in the Comcast Center March 30. Unfortunately, illnesses and injuries prevented them from reaching their first-ever conference title. Maryland scored a 191.175, finishing eighth overall. NC State won its third EAGL title.

Although Maryland did not qualify as a team for the NCAA regionals, three gymnasts were individual qualifiers. Brandi George qualified in the all-around and Talia Tossone on the balance beam. Angela Ferg qualified on the vault for the second year in a row, but was unable to compete due to injury. Maryland had two alternates, Rachel Colon on the beam and Allison Dama on the uneven bars.

Several Terps garnered post season accolades. At the EAGL banquet, Brandi George was awarded EAGL Rookie of the Year and Gretchen Kittelberger was named EAGL Scholar-Athlete of the Year. George received four other awards; she made first team All-EAGL on balance beam, floor exercise and all-around as well as second team All-EAGL on vault. Ferg was named first team All-EAGL on vault surpassing last year's second team honor. On the uneven bars, Colon made first team All-EAGL and Dama made second team All-EAGL. Tossone received second team honors on the balance beam.

2007 EAGL REVIEW

The NC State gymnastics team won the 12th annual East Atlantic Gymnastics League (EAGL) Championship on Friday, March 30, at the Comcast Center in College Park, Md. This championship was the first gymnastics competition held on the main Comcast Center floor and marked the second time that Maryland hosted the event.

The 22nd-ranked Wolfpack claimed their third EAGL title with a 195.475 score; NC State previously won back-to-back team titles in 1999 and 2000. West Virginia followed closely with a 195.300 followed by North Carolina taking third with a 194.925. Pittsburgh was fourth (194.150), George Washington finished fifth (192.775), Rutgers was sixth (192.600), New Hampshire placed seventh (191.525) and Maryland finished in eighth place (191.175).

NC State head coach Mark Stevenson was voted EAGL Coach of the Year for the second straight year in a row; he also received the honor in 1998.

TERP SPOTLIGHT

BONNIE BERNSTEIN

FROM MARYLAND GYMNASTICS TO ABC SPORTS/ESPN

"Receiving a scholarship was, in itself, an honor; but more important, it allowed me to spend valuable time participating in internships that prepared me for my career, instead of working my way through school. That scholarship is still paying dividends, years after my time in College Park."

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 92 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes three Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whose accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue is Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homeland security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selected for national leadership and are making news. Many recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—centers for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freight transportation security; behavioral and social analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also home to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents of the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home national championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey, competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than any university in the nation.

In 2004, Maryland's School of Music hosted the National Symphony Orchestra in its first university residency, and its 2006 opera production was declared by the Washington Post music critic " ... as good as any Bohème you are likely to see this side of the Metropolitan Opera or Covent Garden."

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead. Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, and with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighter than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
NINTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

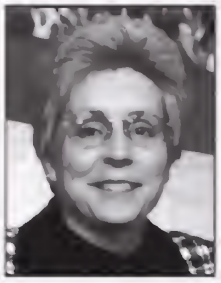
Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 14TH YEAR AT MARYLAND



Deborah A. Yow is in the 14th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 13-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 15 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. In January 2008, she will become a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 13 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $56 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

Yow congratulates one of the members of the Maryland Competitive Cheer team that won the 2006 NCA Division I National Championship.

- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable six national championships during the past two seasons.
- In 2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $31 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 14 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006-07 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps beat Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only nine universities to win the National Championship in football and men's basketball and is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the only other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.

- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Kathy Nelson Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past five years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the $130 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events – part of a remarkable $250 million upgrade and expansion of athletics facilities during Dr. Yow's leadership of Maryland Athletics.
- In 2006-07, 24 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 13 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Sarah Parbel works with the Maryland gymnastics team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

COMCAST CENTER

Maryland's new student activities building and home of Maryland Athletics was completed in fall 2002. Comcast Center's main arena provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball, and will serve as a campus site for university special events and select community events.

The 1,500-seat Comcast Center Pavilion serves as home to the Terps' gymnastics, wrestling and volleyball teams, and the Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, large meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

The Comcast Center also houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly-700 student-athletes on 25 teams.

The Terrapins' first public event for basketball was its annual Midnight Madness celebration. Both basketball teams have state-of-the-art facilities at their fingertips including locker room and lounge areas, training areas complete with jacuzzis, and outstanding weight training facilities.

Twenty suites provide enhanced viewing and entertainment capabilities for Maryland fans. Maryland's student seating capacity accommodates 4,000, with students ringing the first 10 rows around the floor and a majority of seats on the arena's west wall.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors will learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

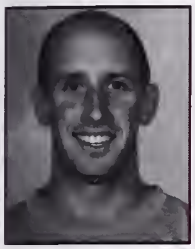
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

One of the most unique aspects of Maryland's women's gymnastics team is the nature of its strength and conditioning program. "We have a vigorous weight program," says head coach Bob Nelligan. "We're physically stronger and tougher, and the support staff that's allowing us to do this should be applauded."

The team's strength and conditioning coach, Barry Kagan, has been a part of Maryland's strength and conditioning program since 1993 and has worked with the gymnasts for the last six years.

According to Kagan, the gymnastics weight training program is one that is constantly changing. "It's continuously adapting depending on the individual needs of the current team," said Kagan.



Barry Kagan

The primary goal of the team's program is injury prevention. Next, the weight program strives to enhance each gymnasts' performance. "Most gymnastics programs take a fairly conservative approach, doing moderate weight training," said Kagan. "We take a very balanced approach, emphasizing strength over muscular endurance, as most of the other programs do."

The team begins lifting in September upon returning to campus. The first two weeks are comprised of a learning/reacquaintance phase. "Most gymnasts don't lift in the style that we do," said Kagan. "We want to make sure they are ready to take on the more complicated lifts."

After the two-week introductory period the team progresses into a complex training program which involves several Olympic-style lifts. The main lower body exercise is the squat exercise, to enhance lower body stability. For upper body training, the women use dumbbells rather than bars to alleviate some of the stress on the shoulders. The athletes also train aerobically in September and October to prepare for full routines.

"In season, our approach becomes more of a maintenance phase," said Kagan. "We alternate the daily intensity of the lifts by organizing around the meet schedule." The women lift as a team twice a week with occasional conditioning circuits in the gym.

As for strength-to-body weight ratio, the gymnasts are the "strongest women in the department," said Kagan.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in two of the premier weight training facilities in the country. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House at Byrd Stadium, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.

In 2002, Maryland began training in the spacious, brand-new, state-of-the-art weight room in Comcast Center.

Maryland gymnasts train with some of the best equipment available, including 20,000 pounds of customized York free weights, seven pieces of Keiser progressive air resistance machines, and a full line of Hammer strength equipment. The weight complex also features immense, self-contained rack stations, Olympic lifting platforms with Eleiko bumper plates, and 10 upper body pressing stations.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT AT THE HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE BUILDING

The Maryland gymnastics team practices in the Health and Human Performance Building (HHP), located near the Campus Recreation Center. The HHP is a state of the art gymnastics facility that covers 18,000 square feet. There are two spring floor exercise mats which lie side-by-side with a travelling overhead spotting rig used for vaulting as well as floor exercise. There are spotting belts that are placed above the uneven bars, the single rail bar, and the trampolines. The single rail bar, tumbling strip and vaulting area are all connected into or onto brand new fitted Tiffin resi pits. Twenty centimeter mats surround AAI uneven bars and four new AAI Elite series balance beams. One of the most attractive features of the practice facility is the lighting, which is soft and leaves no shadows anywhere in the gym. Finally, there is a glassed-in trampoline room with four-string bed Goliath tramps surrounded by spotting platforms and 12-inch landing mats.

So much, so close... It's all here beyond the University of Maryland campus. City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes, jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations, shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay.
